XLVII CONGRESS

REGULAR SESSION.

SENATE

Washington, 31.—Ferry's resolution was referred, directing the committee on pensions to report a bill granting a pension to those who lost a leg or arm in the United States service.

The naval appropriation bill was taken up, the vote to begin at 3 p.m. Butler's amendment was adopted, requiring the secretary of the navy to report to Congress which of the condemned vessels are unfit for use, and not sell them.

Vance failed to get an amendment allowing foreign steel to be used in the construction of the two new cruisers. The vote was 28 to 21, Morgan, Gorman and Brown voting no with the republicans.

The Senate passed the appropriation bill without taking the yeas and nays vote. After the transaction of some other business Allison called up the sundry civil appropriation bill.

The advisability of empowering the secretary of the navy to close useless navy yards and transfer perishable stores and property to other navy yards, and require him to report the facts in each case to Congress, was discussed by Bayard and Plumb, as to the effect which the concentration of civil establishments at other yards, at favored points, might have in influencing elections, Plumb maintaining that it could have no effect. As to the appropriation for civil force in the yards, it was ridiculously inadequate.

Bayard contended the exception should be in favor of the plant or machinery cost, which involves millions of dollars. He regarded the provision as having the effect to cripple the yards, and thought this would be ridiculous at this time, when we had the ruins of a navy behind us, and the probable creation of a new one as the work in the future.

Allison deprecated the striking out of the provision, as it would involve a loss of the proviso which the Senate committee inserted in it, prohibiting any deficiency being made hereafter for a civil establishment. Upon the suggestion of Hale it was agreed to insert the word "perishable" before property.

Bayard moved to strike out the item as amended.

Beck called attention to the expensiveness of navy yard civil establishments, and remarked that he never expected to see a party in power willing to consent to the abolition of the yards. They were now willing to do this and he was willing to stand by and assist them. Therefore he favored the provision and opposed the motion. Bayard's motion prevailed, yeas 31, nays 24.

Hear moved to allow the navy department to make proposals for the completion, repair or construction of iron, steel or wooden vessels, and where they are less than those of a private bidder, to require the department to do the work. Ruled out.

The appropriation for the payment of the labor in equipping vessels, etc., in the navy yards increased to $50,000, making the total $75,000.

Plumb moved to insert a proviso repealing all laws providing for the promotion and increase of pay on the retired list. Agreed to.

After assurance that the proviso would not be retractive, the bill was reported to the Senate and all the amendments made in committee of the whole were concurred in, except the one offered by Beck, reducing the appropriation for finishing the Mainitio Nomah and other iron clads from $1,000,000 to $400,000, and stopping further proceedings under contracts of March 3d, 1870. A separate vote, upon concurrence, which was demanded, resulted—yeas 32, nays 23.

Miller, of California, moved to fix the number of lieutenants at 200, instead of 225. Not agreed to—24 to 33.

Bayard moved to strike out the provision giving the secretary of the navy discretion to place officers, when not at sea, on furlough, as well as on leave of absence. Motion adopted—27 to 20.

The bill then passed on a viva voce vote.

The House bill restoring Fort Benton military reservation to the public domain, and for other purposes, passed.

On motion of Allison the sundry civil bill was taken up. The bill was read for action on committee amendments. After twenty-one pages had been disposed of the bill was laid aside until to-morrow, with the expectation that it will then be completed.

Allison, from the conference on the legislative appropriation bill, reported a disagreement, and a new conference was ordered.

Adjourned.

HOUSE.

Washington, 31.—The bill restoring Fort Benton military reservation to the public domain passed.

Rice, from the committee on foreign affairs, reported a joint resolution for a new Venezuelan commission. Referred to the committee of the whole. The minority will file a report.

Harris reported back the joint resolution instructing the secretary of the navy to convene a court of inquiry on the loss of the Jeannette. Calendar.

The House went to the Speaker's table.

The following Senate bills were passed: The bill authorizing the secretary of the interior to dispose of certain lands adjacent to the town of Pendleton, Oregon, belonging to the Umatilla Indian reservation, and for other purposes. The bill to provide for the disposition of the Fort Larned military reservation.

The Senate bill for the retirement of Ulysses S. Grant, late general and ex-President of the United States, having been reached, McKenzie moved it be laid upon the table. Lost, yeas 77, nays 83. The bill was then referred to the committee on military affairs.

EGYPT.

London, 31.—Sir Garnet Wolsley does not leave England until this day week, and there are some who believe that by that time Arabi Bey will have knocked under, but it is very probable that Turkey will give trouble, at least the friends of the ministry look upon this as the greatest danger now before it.

New York, 31.—Herald's London cable says: The British government is informed that intrigues are progressing between the Alexandria entourage of the Khedive's government and the Sultan, who is using, especially Musselman and religious influences to induce Arabi to declare that he will submit unconditionally to the Sultan, and will protect the Suez canal, if the British forces are withdrawn, leaving the work of pacification for a Turkish contingent, thereby merely effecting a compliance with the decision of the conference. This plan is patronized by M. De Lesseps; also the deficiency of provisions and water is urged by the British government against the landing of Turks until after a forward movement of the British, which will be preceded by the occupation of Aboukir, Damietta and Port Said. Admiral Seymour and General Allison are equally of the opinion that the position of Arabi is an easy one to turn, but not to attack in front without heavy losses. There are strong hopes of an understanding between England and France to oppose an exclusively Turkish intervention if M. d' Freycinet remains in office. Communications on the subject were frequent between Lord Lyons and the French minister of foreign affairs.

A Strange Case.

St. Louis, 31.—On the 7th inst. Guy Smith, a 12-year old son of Milton Smith, living near Kirkwood, in St. Louis County, quarreled with his brother, Louis, and his father whipped them. The boys were milking cows at the time, and after finishing, Guy went into the kitchen, washed his hands, and then went to his grandmother's room, got a shotgun, returned to the kitchen where his father was and emptied one of the barrels of the gun into his body, inflicting a wound from which he died in a few hours. Guy was arrested that evening, and the jury returned a verdict of guilty, and the child will probably be sentenced to be hanged. The verdict was a surprise, and the case throughout has been a singular one and excited great interest. The boy is not 13 years old yet, and has been a strange child from his birth. His head is abnormally large and high, and runs almost to a point like a cone. He has a quick temper, and his physicians say has always been liable to water on the brain. He acknowledged on the witness stand he meant to shoot his father and hurt him as badly as he (the father) had hurt him, but he did not intend to kill him.

Miscellaneous.

New York, 30.—The president of the freight handlers states that Robert Ingersoll and General Butler will lecture on the strike for the benefit of the strikers.

Fall River, Mass., 30.—The Slade Mill difficulty is settled, and the striking spinners will return to work to-morrow.

Washington, 31.—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints for the week ending July 29th was 231,490, against 238,980 for the corresponding period last year.

Philadelphia, 31.—The coinage executed at the mint here during July aggregated 1,311,000 pieces, valued at $806,850.

New York, 31.—The Brening Express correspondent says the river and harbor bill has been signed by the President.

WASHINGTON.

Chicago, 31.—Monday's Journal's Washington: With one exception, no Congress since the war has remained in continuous session so long as the present one. The exception was the first session of the Forty-fourth Congress, which lasted till late in August, 1876. Even now it is impossible to state whether there will be an adjournment in one, two or three weeks. If the river and harbor bill should be vetoed, the members of the House commerce committee say the result might continue Congress indefinitely, as great efforts will be made to secure some bill that the President would approve, or devise other means of obtaining appropriations. River and harbor improvements will not entirely stop if no appropriations shall be made for the appropriations in the general appropriation bills do not lapse at the end of the fiscal year, if not used, but continue as a permanent appropriation. There is now more than $4,500,000 in the unused appropriations to the credit of the river and harbor bill fund from last year's bill. The members of the Senate commerce committee have indicated that if the bill shall be vetoed, there would be no attempt to pass another by that committee. Consequently any efforts on the part of the House would be unavailing.

The Senate judiciary committee, to-day, decided to report favorably the nomination of W. W. Hoover, of California, to be associate justice of Arizona. Judge Stillwell was removed to make place for Hoover, and Stillwell's friends were disposed to oppose the confirmation. Charges had been preferred against Stillwell, and the committee, after examining the record of the investigation in the department of justice, promptly agreed to report Hoover favorably.

Officials at the Chinese legation say a story that thousands of Chinese desire to pass through this country en route home is a gross exaggeration. They say there are some Chinese who want to reach there via the United States but they are to be numbered by the dozens rather than by the thousands has been reported.

The President has approved the order of secretary of the treasury permitting shipment of liquors for medical purposes to the citizens of Sitka. The scarlet fever and measles prevail at that place.

The Baltimore Herald, to-day, printed a story saying that Captain Hooper, of the revenue cutter Corwin, is in disgrace owing to certain illegal transactions while on his search for the Jeannette, and that he has been relieved from command of the Corwin and placed in waiting orders. This story is denied and officers of revenue marine service say that Captain Hooper has not been placed on waiting orders and he is not in Washington, but is in San Francisco in command of his vessel, the Corwin. He was in Washington for some time, but while here was engaged in the preparation of his report of the expedition. He has been constantly on duty since his return from the Arctic and has never been in disgrace.

The House committee on foreign affairs reported, to-day, in favor of correspondence with the Venezuelan government on the subject of a new commission to consider the claims of American citizens against that government, as provided for by the treaty. This commission is to sit in Washington and to pass on all claims, including those considered by the former commission. According to the committee report the former commission was not a commission, but a conspiracy, and it is absolutely impossible to separate the fraudulent from the honest in their transaction.

Railroad Racket.

Chicago, 31.—C. W. Smith, general manager of the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, says his company has been invited to join the east bound pool, but in an official communication to Commissioner Fink has declined for the present, on the ground that his road is, as yet, unprepared for it. Direct connection between that system and Chicago is to be perfected either by a bridge over the Ohio river, or by a truckage arrangement with the Cincinnati Southern, at Cincinnati. Probably within a year through cars will be operated over this line, between Chicago and Newport. The line to Memphis will be ready for traffic by October 1st. An arrangement is about perfected for a fast freight line by this route. The first installment of cars, 800 in number, is just received, the full complement being 6,000. The line is to be known as the Kanawha Dispatch.

Mysterious Murder.

Boston, 31.—The funeral of Geo. J. Proctor, a prominent citizen, whose death was reported from paralysis on Thursday, was stopped by the medical examiner, who found a bullet wound in the back of the head, which the physician says could not have been self-inflicted. A pistol was found secreted under the stairs in a cellar of his house, with one chamber discharged.
